VOL. XI PEORIA, ILLINOIS, DECEMBER, 1907 NO. 3

THE FOOTBALL SEASON.

Bradley's Claim to the College Championship of Central Illinois.

When in reviewing the past foot-ball season, we say it was one of the best Bradley ever had, we realize that although the statement is trite, it is nevertheless true. The season of 1907 was one of the best, if not the best, Bradley ever had, because this year we have a better claim to the college championship, than we have had before.

The season opened with a game at Lakeview, on October 12, with Pekin High School. Although the Bradley team were handicapped by a lack of practice, due to the condition of our athletic field, nevertheless they scored almost at will on their opponents. The Pekin team in spite of a months' practice could not make any headway against the Bradley defense. The score was 24 to 0 in our favor.

On October 18, Bradley over-whelmed Lacon Academy by the score of 27 to 5. In this game Bradley showed great improvement in machine-like play, having no difficulty in holding the Lacon team.

The third game was played at Bloomington with Wesleyan on October 26. A drizzling rain fell throughout the game, making the field heavy and giving the beef of Wesleyan a great advantage. In the first half, by (for Wesleyan) a lucky accident, a field goal was kicked, the ball striking the goal post and bounding true.

On November 2, the Bradley team won its claim to the championship of the central part of the state, incidentally giving Normal the game of their lives. For, on a slippery field, with conditions favoring them, Normal could not score on the lighter Bradley team. Since Normal has beaten Knox, Milliken, Monmouth, and Wesleyan, she justly claims the championship of the state as far as these colleges are concerned. However, because Bradley and Normal, under conditions greatly favoring the latter, played a 0 to 0 game, Bradley has just as proper a claim on the Central Illinois championship, as the state school.

On November 9, Bradley defeated a team purporting to be from Toulon Academy, by the score of 5 to 4.

In the last regular game of the season, played November 23, on our improved athletic field, Bradley demonstrated its superiority over Wesleyan in beating them decisively by the score of 15 to 6. In this game Pfouts, the well-known Bradley end unfortunately had his leg broken.

Coaches Lyons and Keithley, and the team are surely to be congratulated on the successful season. Playing Normal in a 0 to 0 score, obliterated all unpleasant memories of last year's score, and having a claim on the championship of Central Illinois is also pleasant.

THE TEAM.

Inter-Club Debate.

The second inter-club debate of this year occurred Wednesday, November 27, between the Institute and the Girls Debating Clubs. The question was the same as that which was debated in the preliminaries: "Resolved, that the United States should permanently control all corporations carrying on interstate commerce. Constitutionality granted."

The team which represented the Girls Debating Club was Misses Geach, Muir, and Love, and defended the affirmative. The opposing team was to consist of Messrs. Sager, Straesser and Baumgartner, but as the latter was unexpectedly called away on the day of the debate, Mr. Mahle took his place.

The arguments of the affirmative were: That the present system is inadequate, that public welfare demands a change, and that this change must be the establishment of a system of permanent control. They further argued that this system would be practical and beneficial. The negative replied that the present system was sufficient, all that was necessary being the enforcement of the present Interstate Commerce law. They, taking up the practicability of the system advocated by the affirmative, attempted to show that such a system was not at all practical.

The judges decided that the debate was a draw, because the "superior arguments of the negative were balanced by the better organization and greater eloquence of the affirmative."

This will probably be the last Interclub debate before the Winter quarter, when, if the present plan is carried out, they will be held monthly.

These interclub debates are proving of great interest and are doing as much, if not more than anything else to encourage debating at Bradley. The only regret is, that they were not taken up in earnest last year.

Summary of Inter-Club Debates.

The following are the results of all the interclub debates held at Bradley since the organization of the four debating societies:—

Institute club has defeated Bradley club twice, and has had one drawn debate with Girls.

Girls club has defeated Bradley Debating and Literary Society and has had a drawn debate with Institute club.

Bradley club has lost twice to Institute and defeated Bradley Debating and Literary Society once.

Bradley Debating and Literary Society has lost once to Girls club and once to Bradley club.

On November 27, Bradley was saddened by the report of the death of Miss Katherine King, at her aunt's home on Moss Ave. THE TECH extends its sympathy to her bereaved relatives and friends.

The Athletic Banquet.

In the year 1904, the first athletic banquet ever held at Bradley was given to the football team and the boys of the Institute. The following year the affair was continued, but last year there was a second banquet, in which the whole school was represented; both boys and girls. This was such a success, that the banquet has become an annual affair, and is looked forward to with as great an interest as any other school activity.

Bradley this year was represented by one of the best foot ball teams in the history of the Institute, and on the 23rd of November, immediately after the last victory decisively wiping out the previous defeat, the Bradley students, still yelling and cheering, and talking over the great work of the team, crowded up to the third floor, where they danced, till Mr. Bishop at half past six, gave the word to start the repast. When all had been seated, head waiter, "Tokio" and his band of trained supporters, appeared on the scene, and were recalled again and again by incessant cheering. Time after time, during the sumptuous spread some enthusiastic rooter would start a cheer, and the walls of Bradley Hall resounded as they have never resounded before. After the last course had been served, Mr. Bishop arose, and with his usual number of "slams" and "roasts", directed especially at many old alumni players, introduced as toastmaster his assistant; and one who may even be classed above him on this line—Manager Ed. Cushing.

"Cush." slowly unlinked, at same time giving the audience one of his benign smiles. Granting them scarcely time to recover he announced that Dr. Burgess would now address us, "On the Uplifting Influence of Football, or How to Get off your Cons." Dr. Burgess, spoke of the fact that the team showed true gentlemanly spirit while on the field, and that the games were always won by fair and honest means. Next Captain Mercer responded to one of Cushing's original introductions, and expressed deep regret that Pfouts and Heintzmann, owing to serious injuries, could not be present. Coach Lyons, better known to the student body as "Doc." after the highest praise of the team, and of the faculty in giving Bradley clean athletics, advanced an idea that might well and profitable be taken up by the Athletic Board. That is to form a league of the colleges of Central Illinois, similar to those of Michigan and Iowa, to stand for clean, gentlemanly sport.

Cushing, speaking as manager, not as toastmaster, struck the keynote of the evening, when he asked us to remember that the Horological boys in coming out for the team, make a greater sacrifice than those from the Hall, as an injury meant a loss of their whole time. That in previous years, we had had Bradley Hall teams, and Horological teams, but that this year we had one team, a Bradley team. Last, but not least, came Miss Cooper the girl's representative on the Athletic Board, who made us remember that though the girl's part is not quite as conspicuous, it is just as necessary, in order to have a winning team.

Seeing at this point, that there was a chance to get in some more good work, it was announced that the Athletic Board had decided to award to every man who had obtained 3 B's provided two of them had been obtained in the same thing, a solid gold pin of shield pattern with a white B, on a red background. Those entitled to the pin, were Mercer, Lidle, Schenck, Cushing, Lynch, Ebaugh and Plowe. The official B's were awarded to following members: Mason, Neilson, Aylward, Bennett, Paul, Heintzmann, Pfouts, Pfeiffer, Lynch, Cushing, Lidle, Schenck and Mercer.

With one long cheer for the best team that ever represented Bradley, the banquet was adjourned, and in short order the jolly revelers were keeping step to the merry tune of the piano.

There will never be a time in the history of the Institute when such an affair will not be a success, when there are members like those of the present management who took hold and pushed it with a vim and fervor, that tends to establish an atmosphere of good fellowship and Bradley spirit.

French and German Plays.

On Saturday evening, December 14, the much-talked of French and German plays were given at Bradley. Owing to the numerous social events which have taken up every Friday and Saturday evening until Christmas, it was found necessary to give both of these plays on the same evening. The original intention was that the fourth year German class entertain the third year students; and that the French classes have their play at a separate time; but, as stated before, owing to the great number of other social affairs, this was impossible. Owing to the giving of these plays just after THE TECH had gone to press, we are unable to give a complete account of them, although we promise to do the subject justice in our January issue.

The title of the French play is: "L'Anglais tel qu' on le parle." For the benefit of the uninitiated the free English translation is "English as She is Spoke." The cast of characters follows:

Julien.....Ralph Seymour
Eugenie.....Bess Morris
Hogson.....Lester Byron
Le'Inspecteur.....Harold Lynch
Le Garcon.....Bennett Parker
Betty.....Ellen Muir
La Caissiere.....Bess Estep

The German play "Meisterschaft" was written by Mark Twain. "Meisterschaft" is of course, the name of a text-book which contains many and varied samples of German conversation. The play is very humorous, depicting the attempts of four young people, all very much in love with one another, to talk "that horrible German."

Historical Society.

The meeting of the Historical Society for the fall quarter was held at the home of Miss Bessie Morris, December 2. The two papers on Illinois History were read by Miss Grant and Mr. Mason; Miss Grant taking up the life of Daniel Cook; Mr. Mason, that of Ninian Edwards.

The current topics discussed were: "The President's Mississippi Trip," Sidney Easton; "The Standard Oil Fine," Rexie Rockwell; "The Presidential Possibilities," by Robert Plowe; and "The Financial Situation," by Harry Griffin. Refreshments were served at the close.

Debating Team Trials.

Thursday, December 12, the trials for the selection of a first and second debating team to represent Bradley in the debate with Eureka, were held. The question discussed was, "Resolved, that the United States should permanently control all corporations carrying on interstate transportation. Constitutionality granted."

Each speaker was given five minutes to discuss the question and from the general merits of the speakers as displayed in this brief time, the judges selected the team.

Since this trial was held after THE TECH went to press, we are unable to give the results.

We never before considered that thing, which was particularly noticeable at the Athletic Banquet would ever happen at Bradley. After the innumerable "cases" that have originated, flourished and decayed at this institution, one would necessarily suppose attention to the fairer sex to be a distinctive mark of a Bradley man. But at the banquet, exactly the opposite trait was in evidence. For, during the dancing, although there were enough fellows "to go around" nevertheless many young ladies were without partners. Further, all attempts to bring about a different state of affairs were diplomatically (?) resisted. We say "diplomatically" because many of the ways in which the attempts were resisted, were almost, if not quite boorish.

Are these ill-bred slights (for they were nothing else) conducive to the bettering of our reputation for polite consideration of the young ladies? Of course the young ladies did not consider the insult, this editorial is not in their defense. Nor do we think an insult was intended, but it would certainly have seemed so to an outsider.

But the purpose of this editorial is to bring these actions to the attention of the Bradley men in the same way they would appear to an outsider. Do we want our school to get a reputation for boorishness which it does not in the least deserve?

In order that we may do all our sermonizing as far as possible in one issue, we consider it a favorable opportunity to call attention to one practice which we are certain has not been considered seriously, if at all, by Bradley students. That is the practice of stealing posters. For this, there is absolutely no excuse. The practice is despicable and one that should not be tolerated at Bradley, yet we fear it is one that is becoming almost prevalent. For this reason we have mentioned it, certain that if it is considered in its proper light, the practice of stealing posters will cease at Bradley. Bradley students are wise; may a word to the wise be sufficient.

A criticism of THE TECH in an exchange column gives us an opportunity to express our views on the kind of publication a school like Bradley ought to have. The exchange recommended the publication of more humorous matter and less "news."

We are endeavoring to give Bradley a paper as much like a college publication as possible. For that reason, we have closely observed all college exchanges received and have noticed that these differed from the High School exchanges, mainly in the way of news items; the college papers resembling news publications while the High school exchanges are full of amateur attempts at poetry and humor,

However we do not intend to cease inserting our local columns or the good poems which we may receive, but we are endeavoring to furnish a complete and correct record of things at Bradley.

We are endeavoring to make THE TECH as newsy as possible.

Locals

Jack Cooper (excitedly, at the foot ball game): Heavens! Did you see that fellow hit Lidle right in the fist with his face.

Ask Louise G. what about the dream?

Truitt (translating German): "I never had any luck with the dames."

One day this month Dwinnel hied himself to a store to purchase some talcum powder (intended use of powder unknown) and this is what he said to the lady clerk, "Can you tell me, is this good powder. Is it the kind you use yourself?"

(No, we do not know what happened then.—Ed.)

Miss Reed (in German) "As one goes north, all the birds have white plumage, the polar-bears, for instance."

Louise spells her name thus "Lousie".

Grif. says the cause of the financial stringency was the fact that people suspected the banks and locked up their money in their stockings.

Heintzman who was laid up through injuries received in football has returned to school.

"Had" has invented a new Spaniard named Bill Myers. A patent has been applied for.

In English 6, someone read the word "scalped" and the hard hearted scientist, Easton, smiled with eager anticipation.

(Overheard) "Cush, did you have lunch in that short time?"

Cush: "No I had it in my lunch-box."

Dwinnell (much perplexed): "Say, when was the Decree of 1059 passed?"

The posters containing the picture of the football team, have made quite a hit at Bradley. They are the work of Will Hudson and are very tastefully gotten up. In the center is a group picture of the team, while around this, are the individual pictures of the players.

Beecher (in History): "The crusades opened Europe to the introduction of sugar and other grains."

Class (in unison): "Sugar isn't a grain."

Beecher: "Haven't you ever heard of grains of sugar?"

Baumy: "What was a dispensation?"

Dwinnell: "A written statement that one would not go to hell when he died."

(In Chemistry): Causey says he got a precipitate that was a sort of a sky-blue pink, almost green.

The Athletic board has recently placed a new assortment of Bradley jewelry on sale at the book-room. There are several new designs which are meeting with favor.

(Heard in Chapel): "I thought I would punish the man by making him eat the breakfast I had given him."

Jake Mercer (seeing string-haltered horse): "Look at that tongue-tied horse.

Lois H—, brought a package of her fathers' collars and cuffs into the lunch room and was about to eat them when attention was called to her mistake, (This is no "slam" on the lunch-room.)

(Heard in hall): How long has "Sannie" been it? (Bennett.)

Bennett (hearing Lidle propose game with a small school) "We might as well play the German free kindergarten."

Heyle (at basket ball game): "Are they going to play an eye-opener?"

Beecher: "What pope was this? Alexander Pope?"
Bohl: "No, Pope Alexander."

Miss McLaughlin: "Mr. Mann, 'because' should never be a man's reason."

Lester Mason was busily engaged the past month in bringing the young ladies to see his picture on the football poster.

(Heard in hall): "Girls I've dropped my Latin."
"What are you taking now; Lunch and Chapel?"

Merrill: "Was he?"

Dr. Burgess announces in Chapel that the guilty person should immediately return the stolen poster. Mr. Bishop jumps up and runs to General office.

Neve (in Eng. 6): "'Narration' is a verb." Neve gets a pressing bid to a session of Eng. 1.

Mr. Bishop: "Can you give us a definition of work. I know Mr. Schenk can't. You have to know something about a subject before you can talk about it."

(In English 3.): "Er—he wanted to marry this girl, but he wanted to see her first."

Couple—used of two objects having close attachment for one another.
Question—"Are Hutter and a certain young lady a couple?"

Dr. Wyckoff: "Gargoyles often represented a monk eating an apple or a monkey."

This from George: "In telling bear stories, confine yourself to the bare facts."

Miss McLaughlin: "I don't like pompadours (everybody watch Hudson) but I want stories that make your hair stand on end. (Willie smiles.)

Sannie (in Chem.): "How are we to get up there under those hoods, when we make chlorine?"

Una (seeing Judy and Jim walking home from school) "I never saw a brother and sister so devoted as those two are."

Mann: "That was me."

Beecher: "Only dogs die of relapses."

Nov. 12: Miss Duncan has added the gathering of boys' hats to her other occupations.

Strehlow (in German): "Geschwister" means "twins."

"What did you do in cooking today?"
"O, we did experiences with eggs."

The lecture by Dr. Burgess, on "Modern Greece," December 6, was the last of the series of Faculty lectures. Many slides depicting Grecian life and customs were shown and the lecture was extremely interesting.

Social

Ruth and Hugh Cooper entertained the German 3 Club most enjoyably at their home, Saturday evening, November 16. The attraction of the evening was a thrilling drama given by four celebrated actors from Berlin. After this Miss Cooper and Miss Bibo gave exhibitions of the newest way to make paste from flour. Delightful refreshments were served and every one reported a good time.

The first meeting of the Pedagogic Club was held at the home of Mr. Bennett November 15. Miss Katherine Lester gave an interesting talk on art jewelry.

Mildred Schureman entertained a house-party during the Thanksgiving holidays.

Martha Grant entertained the Lambda Phi girls at tea, on the evening of November 5.

Irene Lidle is pledged to Lambda Phi.

A number of the girls of the younger set enjoyed a theater party at the Majestic Saturday, November 30.

Friday, November 29, the Alpha Pis entertained their lady friends at a dinner and dance at the country club. Those present were Misses Boniface, Murduck, Muir, Voorhees, Archer, Baughman, Hanna Fisher, Morris, Strehlow, Faville Black of Pekin, Maple, Miller, Hedrick, Hauk, Middleton of St. Louis, Jenkins and Burton. Messrs. Harris, M. Cowell, Joe Cowell, King Benton, E. Benton, Cutright, Triebel, Meeker, Bourland, Ebaugh, Kellar, Carson, Spurck, Murduck, Truitt, Lynch, Beecher, Plowe, and Griffin. Mr. and Mrs. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Wheelock and Mr. and Mrs. Packard acted as chaperons.

A number of Bradley people enjoyed the subscription dance given at the Women's Club, November 22.

Tri Kappa initiation was held November 9. Omicron initiation November 8 and 11. The initiation was followed by a spread.

Mrs. Will Gable entertained the Omicron girls December 3.

The Lambda Phi girls had a spread at the home of Ellen Muir, November 19.

Helen Nixon was the hostess at a luncheon, November 16.

The Tri Kappa girls enjoyed an assembly and spread at the home of Kathrine Cornelieson, November 21. Those present were: Marcia Bell, Marjie Bryan, Floy Wiley, Emily Proctor, Mrs. Morgan, Mrs. Clark, Mary Woodruff, Blanche Steckel, Mercy Miller, Alida Whiting, Ruth Cowell, Julia and Corrine Voorhees, Betty Murduck, Ethel Maple, Pearl Hedrick, Eleanor Fisher, Hazel Shank, Sanchen Strehlow, Bernedette Cashin, Mary Reed and Katherine Wiley.

The Omicron Tri Kappa girls gave a spread at the home of Mrs. Clarence Roadstrum, November 25. Those who enjoyed Mrs. Roadstrum's hospitality were: Mrs. Howard Keene, Mrs. William Gable, Mrs. Harry Powell, Natalia Jobst, Margaret Richmond, Ruth Cooper Winnie Johnson, Francis Avery, Ellen Avery, Marie Knapp, Bess Estep, Grace Hauk, Eva Wansbrough, Hazel Sholl, Bernice Hall, Mabel Kennedy, Louise Miles, Mary Hubbel, Myra Vance, Margaret Smith, Miriam Buckley, Jessie Rutherford, Birdie Holstman and Etta Spaldi.g.

The Tri Kappa girls gave a luncheon in honor of Miss Cashin, November 9.

On November 27, the Phi Lambda Xi fraternity held their annual banquet at the Creve Coeur Club, celebrating their 8th Anniversary. Those present were: Schaumleffle, Oliver, Vance, H. J. Ward, Block, Fuller, Smith, Swent Cooper, Batchelder, Kuhl, Ballance, Seymour, Lidle, Armstrong, and Straesser.

Miss Case entertained the Pedagogic Club at her home, Monday evening, December 9. Miss Reed of the German department, talked on the German schools.

The active members of Omicron Tri Kappa had a Theater Party during the Thanksgiving vacation.

Irene Lidle was initiated into Lambda Phi Friday, December 6. The initiation was followed by a dinner in her honor.

From all appearances the Xmas Holidays are to be even gayer than those of last year. The Lambda Phi's are going to open the series of festivites with their annual dance at the Women's Club, Friday December 20.

On Monday, December 23, the "Jolly Seven" are going to give a dance at the Women's Club.

The Tri Kappa annual is to be given New Year's Eve. New Years' night the Omicrons are going to give an informal masquerade dance.

The Sigma Tau Beta Fraternity won renown in their famous minstrel show, which was given at the Women's Club, Friday, November 15. Many enjoyed the dance after the play.

The Sigma Tau Betas were hosts at an informal banquet at the Creve Coeur Club Saturday evening, November 30. The banquet was given in honor of Thanksgiving visitors. Twenty-five members were present.

Mildred Barnes entertained for her cousin Miss Barnes of Jacksonville, Friday, November 30. The guests included Katherine Faber, Adeline DeLent, Lily Keithley, Francis Miller, Helen Nixon, Alice Frazer, Edith Tanton, Genevieve Johnson, Jessie Mercer, Francis Buckley Adalaide Sprague, Medora Meyers, Ida Lucas, Helen Heald and Francis Barnes.

Athletics

Wesleyan Falls Before Bradley Warriors.

Never in the history of the Institute has a team fought harder for victory, and under more adverse circumstances, and never has the student body at large felt more joy over a victory, than at the end of forty-five minutes of play, when a score of 15 to 6 was chalked up against Illinois Wesleyan.

It was a grand finish to a grand season, but was marred by an injury to Pfouts, our consistent right end. It was late in the second half, when Schenck signalled for a forward pass, and Pfouts ran twenty yards to receive it. Just as he caught it he was tackled, and in trying to rise, fell back in a heap. A hurried examination was made, and Pfouts was rushed to Proctor hospital. Pfouts, although a stranger at the first of the year, and not closely connected with the Hall, has endeared himself to Bradley rooters by his display of true school spirit, and he has the sympathy of the whole school body.

Wesleyan was outplayed at every angle of the game, notwithstanding the fact that our boys were outweighed, and compelled to meet heavier opponents on a muddy field. For one whole week, we prayed and hoped for a dry field, but when the referee's whistle blew, a muddy stretch of ground lay before the team.

Undaunted they pulled off trick formations forward passes and onside kicks almost at will, while they also found a weak spot in Wesleyan's right side of the line and made many a yard on straight line bucks.

"Big Ed." in many a crises, when it seemed the ball would be lost, ploughed through the whole Wesleyan line for the necessary gain. Captain Mercer showed brillantly in his return of punts, and his scintillating end runs. Aylward, given his first fair chance to show what he could do, by his consistent line bucking, filled the hearts of Bradley rooters with joy, for they now see a player that will be able to fill big "Red" Lidle's shoes. Schenck at quarter back, directed the team in admirable fashion, and by his great headwork, and ability to find weak spots completely overwhelmed Wesleyan. Cushing, Bennett and Pfouts were again back on the line. The greatest praise has been given the whole line when it can be said that Wesleyan only made first down once, during the entire game. For Wesleyan, Tiffany at quarter back was the star, his forty yard run for a touchdown, being a feature of the game. Holbert at full, and Mahaffy at left end, also played great games.

Wesleyan kicked off to Bradley and Captain Mercer returned the ball 25 yards before being downed. Line bucks by Aylward and Lidle, varied with onside kicks and forward passes carried the ball to Wesleyan's ten yard line, where Mercer running the ball on a delayed pass, went around left end for first touch down. Bennett missed goal. Score Bradley 5, Illinois Wesleyan, 0.

After the next kick off Bradley worked the ball up the field to Wesleyan's three yard line, where the visitors made a brilliant stand, Holbert kicking to Schenck, who returned it to the fifteen yard line. Bradley was not to be denied; in a few minutes Mercer went over for the second touchdown. Schenck missed goal. Score Bradley 10, Wesleyan 0.

Bradley kicked to Doolittle who immediately punted to Mahaffy. Wesleyan secured the ball on a forward pass, but failing to gain kicked to Schenck on Bradley's fifteen yard line. Lidle immediately punted to Tiffany, who ran forty yards for Wesleyan's only touch down. Doolittle punted out to O'Connell, and Tiffany kicked goal. Score, Bradley 10; Wesleyan 6. Wesleyan then kicked off to Mercer, and after an exchange of punts, time was called with ball in Bradley's possession in the middle of the field.

In the second half after about ten minutes of play, Bradley gradually worked the ball to Wesleyan's thirty yard line, when with ten yards to gain, and third down, Lidle made fifteen in a straight line buck. Line bucks by Aylward, Lidle and Mercer carried the ball to three yard line, where Lidle went over for third touchdown. Bennett missed goal. Score, Bradley 15; Ill. Wesleyan 6. From this time on neither side came any where near scoring.

The line up was as follows:

Bradley Defeats Toulon Academy.

On Nov. 16, Bradley played their first game of the season on the new Athletic field against Toulon Academy, an aggregation made up of all star town players. Bradley crippled from the hard game with Normal, was compelled to put many subs in the line. At the very start of the game, it was seen that the line was weak, the quarter often being tackled with the ball in his hands, this necessarily lead to much fumbling.

At the beginning of the game, Toulon worked the ball thirty yards up the field, but Bradley held on their twenty-five yard line, and Scott kicked a "beaut" of a drop kick. After the next kick off, Bradley by short end runs worked the ball to the center of the field, where on an onside kick Armstrong carried the ball to the five yard line, and Aylward was shoved over for a touchdown. Score: Bradley 5, Toulon 4. During the remainder of the game neither side had a chance to score. The only lamentable fact is that any player should be hurt while playing against such an aggregation. This is a class of teams Bradley should cut from her schedule.

Basket Ball.

Clippers Won Over Bradley.

On Friday evening, Nov. 22, the Clippers Peoria's crack basket ball organization, defeated the Bradley five by a score of 46 to 31 at local Y. M. C. A.

Neither team showed consistent team work, but Bradley surprised her supporters. Played off her feet in the first-half, she came back in the second session with a changed line up, playing the Champion Clippers to a standstill.

In the first half Bradley was at the mercy of the Clippers. Rutherford, Burkhardt, and Smith throwing many baskets. The score at the end was 22 to 7.

Both teams changed their line up in the second half, and Bradley played like a different team. Big Clayman went in at center, while Howard Haungs tried to play the same position for the Clippers, but was forced to give up to Rutherford. Clayman broke up the Clippers play from the pivot position, and during the first part of the half, Bradley rushed the Clippers off their feet, throwing basket after

SONGS WE SANG.

We're the candy school,
And don't you fool
With the boys on our football squad,
We're here to win and can jump in
With line backs that gain by the rod,
For we have the bunch
And also a hunch,
That to beat you would not be cruel,
No Illinois Normals' not forgot,
We come from the candy school.

Every little bit added to what we've got,
Makes up a football score.
That's a lesson we learned at school,
That a goal counts one point more.
Run around their ends a while.
Don't we do it fine?
Try a forward pass or two,
Smash 'em in the line;
Every little bit added to what we've got
Makes up a foot ball score.

(Tune) SAME OLD STORY.

Same old cot lot,
Same old gag,
Same old wobbling goal posts,
Same old ball to snag,
Same old victory,
Same old score,
Its just the same old Bradley
As it was before.

PROLOGUE.

Should you ask me whence these stories,
Whence these slams and roasts and write-ups,
With the odor of the "dog-house,"
With the dew and damp of physics,
With the curling smoke of pipe-dreams,
And the jokes of Mr. Bishop,
With their frequent repetitions and their wild reverberations,
Like the planer down in wood-shop;
I should answer, I should tell you,
From the class-room and the office,
From the dreary waste of lunch-room,
From the haunts of Mr. Comstock,
From the den of Mr. Crerie,
From the chapel, halls, and basement;
(Home of Lyman, Freshman chaser)
We repeat them as we heard them
From the lips of Bohl, the roaster.

ODE TO A THEME.

Farewell, my dearest theme, farewell;
My prayers thou hast with thee,
May Miss McLaughlin think the fine,
And mark thee with an "E."
If such occurs; Oh joy! Oh bliss!
How happy I will be
To see upon you, dearest theme,
A mark that looks like "E". (M.)

He took K Cl 03 plus S;
It was a lovely golden mess.
He mixed it up, ground it some;
It shot him into kingdom come.

IT IS EVER THUS.

Friday threw my books away,
And hastened to the matinee.
Saturday, such was my fate,
Had to fill a lovely date.
Sunday, all day, felt just punk,
Monday same old story—Flunk.

Exchanges

The Otterbein Aegis has an appropriate cover for its November issue. We think that the plan of placing material between the advertisements is not a good practice as it is often not read as carefully as it might be if placed elsewhere. The Athletic Department could be developed more fully.

The Red and Black, of Wendell Phillip's High School, Chicago, is an excellent high school paper. The local department is especially strong. Its last issue had one of the best and neatest covers that the TECH has come across in a long time. The short stories which it contains are well written and interesting.

The November issue of Milliken University Decaturian is one of the best numbers of that paper which has come to THE TECH. A person who picks up the Decaturian gets a good idea of the way in which things are going at the Decatur school.

The October issue of the College Greetings of Woman's College, Jacksonville, is the last number of this paper received by THE TECH. It differs from the majority of college editions, being printed in a unique manner, having a fixed design at the top of each page and each paragraph marked. Do you not think that you could place the names and members of the staff in a more conspicuous position? We like your placing of the advertisements at the back of the paper.

The Hillsdale Collegian, of Hillsdale Michigan, comes forward with some strong editorials. The first one in the November 13 issue would hit many other other colleges beside Hillsdale. It is our opinion that the Collegian devotes too much space to alumni in comparison to that given to students' behavior.

The Penn Chronical has a good story in "The Moonshiners' Daughter," but this raises the question whether or not it is best for a college paper to run a continued story. We would like to see your exchange column improved next month. You hit a weak point in most schools when you speak in your editorials of the way in which exchanges are neglected by students.

The November number of the Trintonian which THE TECH has just received shows an improvement over last month's issue.

The Pegasus of Eureka College is always welcomed. The Pegasus seems to have the same aim as THE TECH, namely of subordinating stories to the presentation of the news of the school. In the issue at hand, there is but one story and that is a short one of less than a page. It contains a cartoon which could be studied with profit by all entering pupils.

The Oracle of Hamline University contains good material, but much is taken from the paper by the arrangement of the items. Place your leading local or story, if you publish them, on the first page and save your editorials for the fourth or fifth page.

The Wyoming Student contains an article on "Grieg and his Work," which should be read by all interested in music. It also has some strong editorials but why do you leave them until the end? It would be well to place them nearer the center.

Purple and White of Spalding Institute also evidently believes it is a good thing to put the editorials on the first page, but as we have said before we believe the first page should be reserved for the leading local or story. It does something new by publishing the marks of various students. The cuts at the heads of the department are good, especially that of athletics, which is one of the best seen by the TECH.

The Knox Student devotes nearly the whole of the last issue to the football team. The cuts are good and the articles show work on the part of the staff. The cover design is appropriate and a thing of beauty.

In some respects the Augustana Observer is as good as the previous issue, while in other respects it has weakened. This is especially true of the exchange column, which last month was commented on in THE TECH as being very good. This month however it contains the criticisms of but two papers. Come up to your previous standard, Observer.

The picture of the football team, which is the frontispiece of this issue is published through the courtesy of The Peoria Journal, the owner of the cut. For this considerate favor we desire to express to the Journal, our heartiest appreciation.
